

Dr. Rakesh V. Gupta: Delivering Effective and Efficient Care to Every Patient

Written by Australian Business

TOMS RIVER, NJ, August 30, 2014 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Dr. Rakesh V. Gupta is a well-known Internist for his numerous specializations. He is a board certified doctor in Cardiovascular Disease, Internal Medicine, Interventional Cardiology and Nuclear Cardiology. Dr. Gupta is also an internist who has 4 areas of management expertise including Acute Coronary Syndrome (ACS), Heart Block, High Blood Pressure (Hypertension) and Unstable Angina.

In 1999, Dr. Gupta graduated from Stony Brook University School of Medicine. After graduation from medical school, Dr. Gupta completed both his internship and residency at Montefiore Medical Center in New York, NY. In addition, Dr. Gupta completed two fellowships; one each at Massachusetts General Hospital and Montefiore Medical Center.

In his 15 years of practice, Dr. Gupta has provided specialized patient care for the heart and cardiovascular system. Dr. Gupta is a cardiologist that specializes in the diagnosis, treatment, and prevention of disorders as well as conditions affecting the cardiovascular system. Some of the conditions treated by Dr. Gupta may include high blood pressure and cholesterol levels, complications from diabetes, heart disease and defects, general chest pains, and other cardiovascular issues. Dr. Gupta is a licensed internist affiliated with prominent institutions such as Jersey Shore University Medical Center and Community Medical Center.

Dr. Gupta has attributed his success to his determination and persistence with regards to patient care.

Contact Information: Dr. Rakesh V. Gupta
Company Name: New Jersey Heart Institute
Address: 20 Hospital Drive Suite 12B Toms River, New Jersey 08755
Telephone: 732-240-7777