

NORFOLK, VA, November 19, 2014 /24-7PressRelease/ -- The law office of Kalfus & Nachman PC is honored to have a member of its legal team appointed to Governor Terry McAuliffe's Administration for a four-year term. Colin P. O'Dware, Esquire has been appointed to the Virginia Board of Corrections, a nine-member, policy-making Board appointed by the Governor of Virginia. The Board's mission is to enhance public safety by controlling and supervising sentenced offenders in a humane, cost-efficient manner, consistent with sound correctional principles and constitutional standards (Code Section 53.1-2).

"We are honored to have Colin O'Dware on our legal team and wish him much success as he serves the citizens of the Commonwealth of Virginia, on the Board of Corrections," said Norfolk attorney Abe Kalfus.

Colin received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Virginia Tech in 2003, and his Juris Doctor from George Mason School of Law in 2006. Colin practiced as a trial lawyer for five years at the Office of the Public Defender for the City of Norfolk. Colin is a member of both The Virginia State Bar and The North Carolina State Bar. He is also admitted and qualified to practice in the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia, and the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Virginia. Colin is also an active member of the Virginia Trial Lawyers Association (VTLA). He has a very active personal injury, admiralty, and criminal defense trial practice.

About Kalfus & Nachman

The Virginia personal injury lawyers of Kalfus & Nachman proudly serve the communities of Norfolk, Newport News, and Roanoke, Virginia. They represent a wide variety of legal cases such as personal injury, motor vehicle accidents, social security disability, wrongful death, product liability and nursing home negligence. For more information, please visit: www.kalfusnachman.com or call 757-461-4900.

Read more Press Releases from M.L. Murray: