

Written by Business News

---

National Ultrasound has announced a new partnership with GE Healthcare. The Company now handles the Point of Care and Cardiovascular ultrasound distribution for the physician markets throughout the United States.