

Abditive Films to Begin Filming First Project of New Slate

Written by Business News

Abditive Films has been given the green light to begin production on their first film from their newly acquired slate titled "Conviction".