

EKTIMIS Launches Innovative Training Program Designed to Develop a Network of Experts and Advocates

Written by Business News

The program, set to launch in September 2015, will focus initially on training candidates in the field of human resources workforce development, social services, youth education, as well as civil community advocacy.