

Lower Income Earners Drive Housing Boom in Rwanda, Reports KT Press

Written by Business News

Low income earners in Rwanda could soon control the real estate sector in the country as new indications suggest they are building while big salaried counterparts eat up all their revenues.