

Health Partners Plans Introduces Health Partners Medicare

Written by Australian Business

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- Starting this month, Philadelphians have more choices in Medicare coverage. Health Partners Plans — the only non-profit, hospital-owned insurer in the region — will launch Health Partners Medicare.

Health Partners Medicare will offer four new Medicare Advantage plans in Philadelphia — Health Partners Medicare Prime (HMO), Health Partners Medicare PrimePlus (HMO), Health Partners Medicare Basic (HMO) and Health Partners Medicare Special (HMO SNP). The latter provides special coverage for Medicaid and Medicare dual eligibles.

"For nearly 30 years, Health Partners Plans has been 'doing it right' and making a difference in the Philadelphia community, providing our 175,000 members with access to high quality health care and dedicated member service," said William S. George, President and CEO. "We're invested in shaping healthy outcomes, and ensuring that our plans can serve our members over the course of their lifetime. Now we can do that through our fast-growing KidzPartners CHIP plan, our award-winning Health Partners Medicaid plan, and our new Health Partners Medicare plan," he said.

The new plans reflect Health Partners Plans' core values of accessibility and commitment to reflecting the cultures they serve.
