The remaining 5,992 winning raffle ticket numbers for third- and fourth-tier prizes were selected, but were not televised due to time constraints. Winning numbers are selected by a computerized random drawing.

Players may check winning numbers beginning tonight at palottery.com and at retailers. Winning ticket numbers will be listed on the Lottery website by prize category. In addition, players may visit Lottery retailers to scan their own tickets to find out if they are winners.

To be considered a winning ticket, the eight-digit number must exactly match a winning number selected in the raffle drawing, and all digits must appear in the same sequence as the winning number.
