A complete source for graphics, printing and mailing needs, Mosaic delivers fast, superior-quality output to clients as its number one priority. Mosaic management is always evaluating new solutions that would improve output quality while also reducing ongoing issues with production bottlenecks.

Al Canosa said "We considered all of the major digital imaging manufacturers and determined that a Toshiba digital press system would offer a broader range of capabilities and drastically improve our turnaround time while maintaining our rigid quality control procedures."

"In the print marketplace, it's extremely important to have service people that understand the needs of customers. Toshiba has an excellent service track record and this was one of the most compelling competitive advantages when selecting the new solution. Toshiba has been proactive in understanding our workflow needs to keep the new production print systems running at peak performance and we are more than pleased with the overall improvement it has brought to our business while providing the foundation for future growth." said Al Canosa, Managing Director of Mosaic Printing, Signage and Marketing Services.
