

Contact Leasing Corporation Announces an Equipment Rental Program

Written by Australian Business

Contract Leasing Corporation

(PRLEAP.COM) October 8, 2013 - Piscataway, NJ – CLC launched its new customer portal in July 2013.

Completely customer tested and approved

Completely

, the portal is designed to keep you rolling with detailed maintenance analytics and printable documents.

The completely redesigned portal features a dashboard that puts powerful, actionable semi-trailer leasing and maintenance cost information right at the fingertips of supply chain executives and senior leaders. The interactive graphs and charts can be customized and exported by fleet analysts and managers to give a complete picture of a customers' semi-trailer spend. The easy to use interface allows managers and analysts alike to quickly capture spend by repair type, repair location, work type (road service, scheduled shop, etc.) This powerful tool can help you quickly and easily spot and quantify issues that need management's attention.

Created in direct response to our client's needs the new portal features 24/7 access to FHWA inspection forms, registrations, and rental agreements. Our clients' fleet managers and dispatchers can download and print these important documents in immediate response to driver requests or even if at a DOT stop! Timely access to documentation about your leased or rented dry vans, reefers, or flatbeds can get you back on the road and rolling quickly. CLC can also offer this service on customer owned equipment and equipment leased through other companies as part of a comprehensive fleet management solution.

The data analytics page can be used for something as simple as the repair history for a single leased trailer or to download complete fleet maintenance spend categorized by repair type, location, and causes of failure.

Contact Leasing Corporation Announces an Equipment Rental Program

Written by Australian Business

All this new technology only enhances CLC's personal approach to each and every customer while providing us the tools to support fortune 500 companies and small operations with the same degree of and quality and service. Our web portal also provides complete flexibility of payment options. Our customers can now pay all their maintenance and leasing invoices online with a credit card, check, or even PayPal account. In addition clients have access to paid invoices and account information any time they need it.

"CLC continues to work with lenders, dealers and manufacturers to reduce cost enabling us to offer our clients the best value in semi trailer equipment and rental options," said Michael Goor, president and CEO of CLC. "With our new website now fully operational, we can further assist clients in reducing administrative and operating costs and give them the tools necessary to manage not just their CLC leased trailers, but also their mixed fleets of owned and leased equipment through one single point of access"

To inquire about commercial semi trailer leasing and fleet management options, visit www.contractleasing.net

CLC "The Way To Roll"

About Contract Leasing Corporation:Contract Leasing Corporation (CLC) is a leading trailer leasing, sales and services company. Since CLC's inception in 1991, our mission has been to provide our clients with the best value in trailer equipment and services. We forge long term relationships through problem solving, innovation, and customer specific account management. We continuously evaluate our products and services and employ the latest technology. Simply stated, excellence in customer service and satisfaction is our goal and we accept nothing less.