

( PRLEAP.COM ) Temecula, CA – October 8, 2013 - Executive Business Services (EBS), a leading software developer and distributor with headquarters in Temecula, California announced today that Photo-Sonics, Inc. has selected PROPRICER™ to support the company's government contracting proposal pricing and cost analysis requirements.

As an industry leader in cost proposal solutions, PROPRICER serves as a multi-user platform where functional groups can collaborate within the same data set, real-time. As an alternative to restricted mainframe applications or unstable complex spreadsheets, PROPRICER offers users an easy-to-use interface, robust database design, advanced import and export features, and the ability to perform and create complex "what if" analysis and custom reports in minutes.

"Photo-Sonics is a very interesting company with an extraordinary diversified product line, manufacturing everything from photo-optical instrumentation used to test and evaluate military weapon systems to high-speed photography equipment used to create motion pictures," said EBS' President John Shurance. "As with many small businesses, time and manpower are in short supply. We are confident that the purchase of our PROPRICER Small Business Edition software will enable Photo-Sonics to reduce proposal preparation time, stay ahead of the competition, and win more contract awards."

About Executive Business ServicesAs an application solutions provider focusing on meeting the needs of the growing Information Technology marketplace, EBS continues to successfully build easy-to-use commercial off-the-shelf applications for various industry markets. EBS' industry proven PROPRICER proposal pricing application suite has been helping contract management organizations standardize and manage the cost proposal process, thereby improving productivity and profitability time and again. With clients all over the US, Canada, and Europe, EBS attributes its success to its corporate mission of building quality, long-term relationships with its customers, while offering products and services that can meet and exceed the changing demands of its users.
