( PRLEAP.COM ) CarCaddy Auto Transport, a leading auto shipping company, offers insurance, free online quotes, and safe, secure transport services for all vehicle types, including motorcycles and boats. Regardless of the distance you need your vehicle shipped or the size of the vehicle, they have both enclosed and open shipping options as well as express auto transport services when time is a concern. The technology used by CarCaddy sets it apart from other car shipping companies within the industry, making it the top and safest choice for all auto transport needs.

CarCaddy makes it extremely easy to ship a vehicle and offers numerous options to make your experience as stress-free as possible. Open auto shipping is both their most economical and popular option - securely placing your vehicle in a double deck trailer with other cars for long distance travel. They also use flatbed trucks, tow trucks, or single deck trailers for shorter distance vehicle shipping needs - once again working to ensure your costs are as low as possible. "Customers who want the most bang for their buck choose the 'open' option for its competitive prices," notes a CarCaddy spokesperson. "Other customers choose open shipping for its speedy scheduling and top of the line safety features." For a slightly higher cost, you can opt to have your vehicle shipped in CarCaddy's enclosed trailer. This is a great option if you are shipping during the winter months, as it will protect your vehicle from the weather and other outside elements. Both options are available whether you are shipping your car, boat, motorcycle, SUV, or heavy equipment.

CarCaddy is the #1 choice in the auto shipping industry for good reason. Unlike many similar companies, they offer door-to-door services for both vehicle pick-up and delivery. Their staff is comprised of top transportation specialists, enabling them to answer all your questions and get your vehicle to its desired location hassle-free. Take advantage of their free auto transport quotes before you get started. This will calculate your shipping price right on the spot. Additionally, CarCaddy offers international and express auto transport services for customers with these specific needs.

About CarCaddyAs a top-notch car shipping company that offers competitive rates and a one-of-a-kind online tracking system, CarCaddy strives to provide all customers with the best service possible. They offer nationwide and international vehicle shipping for cars, motorcycles, boats, and heavy equipment. Additionally, CarCaddy boasts a 100% money back guarantee program for all unsatisfied customers. They are a member of the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMSCA) and a fully licensed, insured, and bonded auto transport company. CarCaddy's simple online form is available 24/7, enabling you to receive your free quote and get started whenever it is convenient.
