

CarCaddy Introduces Open Auto Transportation

Written by Australian Business

---

Auto Shipping with CarCaddy

( PRLEAP.COM ) CarCaddy, a national auto transport, introduces open auto transport to their long list of services. CarCaddy already offers enclosed shipping and specialized vehicle transport, but open auto gives customers a more affordable option.

Open Auto Transportation uses a trailer without enclosed sides to ship your vehicle. There are multiple cars placed on the two-deck trailer, and each is secured in place individually. This makes shipping cars across the country, or on other long trips, extremely affordable, because multiple people are able to split the costs. If you are traveling within the same city, flatbeds or tow trucks may be used. Open Auto Transport is not only for cars, but motorcycles, boats, heavy equipment, and more. Many dealers find this is the most economical choice for shipping new cars. Open Transport is a more economical choice, and is generally a faster process.

CarCaddy is proud to be offering this service to its loyal customers. Not only is it the best option for many of them, but CarCaddy also states that, "Open auto transport allows us to broaden our customer base to help those for whom auto shipping would otherwise not be affordable. We hope returning and new clients, alike, find the service useful and satisfying." If you would like more information about open auto transport, or any other car shipping options, CarCaddy can be contacted to answer questions or for free quotes.

About CarCaddy Auto Transport CarCaddy Auto Transport leads the industry in national auto transport and offers international shipping. Their philosophy to focus on the customer allows them to provide excellent service that earns repeat business. CarCaddy is the only company to offer tracking abilities and their innovative ideas such as this make them the standard in auto transport.