, a leading moving and storage provider, today announced its most recent recognition for driver of the month – Ivan Carranza. Each month, Berger moving recognizes team members across the country who deliver exceptional client service and adheres to the company's principals of reliability and trustworthiness.

Based in Dallas, TX, Carranza began working for Berger as an assistant after graduating high school in 1997. He continued to progress through the company and in 2000 became a full-time driver for Berger. In 2003, Carranza purchased his first Berger moving truck and became an owner/operator. His driving record remains clear of any motor vehicle accidents. In March 2009 Carranza passed his citizenship test, took an oath of allegiance and became a naturalized citizen of the United States.

"I am honored to be recognized as driver of the month by Berger," said Carranza. "Working for Berger and being an owner/operator has been a wonderful career choice for me and my family. The job offers flexibility, growth opportunity and the great support of a major national company."

Berger moving specializes in the transportation and storage of household goods, office and industrial equipment, special products and product distribution. The company provides local, long distance and international moving services for residential customers, businesses and government agencies. Berger operates 15 full-service locations in Atlanta, Charlotte, Chicago, Cleveland, Dallas, Los Angeles, Phoenix as well as other major cities and has access to one of the largest moving networks in the world.
