(PRLEAP.COM) Atlanta, GA - IDology , Inc., a provider of real-time technology solutions for age verification and for confirming identity online or other customer-not-present environments, announces the launch of ExpectID Global. This international identity verification and fraud prevention solution is proven to increase revenue, prevent fraud, and meet compliance regulations. ExpectID Global will be initially available in the UK and is the first phase in IDology's overall global strategy to provide identity and age verification in the international marketplace.

ExpectID Global will provide organizations worldwide the ability to offer a safe and reliable way to validate an identity and ensure transactions move forward faster and without manual intervention on an international level. Through a quick, behind-the-scenes, minimally-intrusive process, ExpectID Global gives international merchants the confidence to know that customers are who they say they are, and improves fraud prevention, as well as the customer's experience. ExpectID Global's flexible and on-demand features allow organizations to make quick and real-time configuration changes, giving complete control over their proofing processes.

Through ExpectID Global ExpectID Scan feature, customers worldwide gain the ability to obtain a higher level of authentication specifically designed to allow global organizations to validate both domestic and international driver's licenses or passports, and to automate the manual review process. With these powerful identity verification tools, organizations are much better prepared to prevent fraud, increase customer acquisition, meet compliance, and ultimately drive revenue.
