

RealOrganized, Inc. Releases Upgrade to RealtyJuggler Real Estate Software

Written by Australian Business

(PRLEAP.COM) Today RealOrganized, Inc. announced another major upgrade to their RealtyJuggler Real Estate Software organizer. This upgrade includes over 50 improvements based upon feedback from members. Improvements include: 20% faster operation, as well as numerous improvements to common operations such as deleting a category, printing screens, and searching. Icons have been redesigned for retina displays and RealtyJuggler has been further optimized for use with Windows 8.1 and Google Chrome. The Goals section has been improved with a new users manual and improved ability to track success in converting prospects into clients and closings. Envelope Printing now handles different sized envelopes. Mobile support has been improved with an optimized Mobile version of RealtyJuggler and has been particularly optimized for tablet-sized devices such as the iPad and Android tablet. Numerous improvements have been made for commercial real estate. Additional fields have been added and the summary screens now display commercial information. Can now match Buyers requirements against a database of available properties and provides a ranked list of properties that match those requirements. Perfect for situations when a Multiple Listing Service (MLS) is not available. The Homes database can now track both the owner and listing agent. Perfect for tracking investment properties. Can now restore individual records from a backup using the "Restore" link at the bottom of the General screen. This is a free upgrade and is automatically applied when a member signs into RealtyJuggler. Visit company web site for 90 day trial of RealtyJuggler.
