

CRJ Services Achieve Worksafe Accreditation

Written by Australian Business

(PRLEAP.COM) May 11, 2014 - CRJ Services are proud to announce they have achieved the Worksafe Contractor status. The award is regulated by SMAS (Safety Management Advisory Services), part of the Safety Systems in Procurement (SSIP) Scheme.

Commenting on the award, Rob Symons, Co-Director at CRJ Services said: "I am delighted that we have achieved the Worksafe accreditation. This demonstrates our on-going support of and commitment to Health and Safety.

Rob went on to say "We believe that as a hirer of recycling equipment, to the waste industry the SMAS accreditation is a great way of demonstrating to our customers, that we are serious about safety. It also helps to ensure we can be added to preferred suppliers lists quickly and easily.

CRJ Services provide specialist equipment to companies to help them sort refine and process their waste. This helps them reduce their landfill costs and generate an alternative stream of income at the
