

Homes by Vanderbilt Honored by Commodore Homes!

Written by Australian Business

(PRLEAP.COM) May 18th, Sanford, North Carolina – Homes by Vanderbilt, a Modular home company that specializes in modular homes for Carolina and Virginia residents, is excited to be honored by Commodore Homes for selling more homes in the Commodore market.

"Being able to sell as many homes as we did, is an honor to both myself and my company." Said Homes by Vanderbilt President Tom Van De Reit. "In a time when everyone's complaining about the job market and housing market, it's good to see that things are on an upswing with us."

The housing market has taken a hit as many people have been hit by the lack of jobs and employment offerings going on throughout the Carolinas, but Homes by Vanderbilt has been able to carry the trend.

"I am blessed everyday by the team that I have here, just look at the Homes by Vanderbilt Reviews . Many people would of seen there business get swallowed up in the last few years, but thankfully we have survived."
