

Kindred Greetings Offers a New Line of Sophisticated Personalized Photo Invitation Cards

Written by Australian Business

---

( PRLEAP.COM ) June 5, 2014 - San Francisco, CA – Kindred Greetings, a company that helps their customers celebrate the exciting times in life with custom greeting cards, has now released a new line of foldable photo birthday invitations. This new line of cards comes in a variety of sizes, are personalized free of charge and include free envelopes. Personalized birthday invitations are a great way to make an invitee feel special. It is also a great way to stand out from the ordinary, making people remember a special occasion.

Kindred Greetings offers more than 100 different designs of birthday invitations. They also create greeting cards for a large variety of other occasions, including baby announcements, save the dates, graduations, baptisms and weddings to name a few. Their designs are unique and completely customizable making it much more fun to send greetings to friends and loved ones with a personalized message, rather than the ordinary message that can be found in almost any greeting card. Their online design tool offers a large variety of designs, customizations and ability to upload a client's own photo to create the perfect card or invitation.

Guests love to receive personalized photo invitation cards and now Kindred Greetings is making it possible for consumers to try their new line at a discount. The introductory offer for the new line of birthday invitations expires May 31, 2014. To take advantage of this offer, visit the new line at Kindred Greetings, create your card and enter promo code KGP514 at checkout to receive the discount. Anyone that would like more information about the cards that Kindred Greetings offers can visit them online or call 1-800-352-7896.

About Kindred Greetings Kindred Greetings started with 28 years of experience under its belt with the help of its parent company, Sharper Cards. With an impeccable team of designers and marketing specialists, Kindred Greetings has grown to be a successful greeting card company today. Their goal is to provide fresh, affordable and customized designs to make communicating with friends and loved ones not only possible, but special too. They offer a quick 2-day turnaround time and exclusive designs that are the perfect answer for any occasion.