

Icarus Jet Announces Relationship with Africa Region

Written by Australian Business

(PRLEAP.COM) June 6, 2014 - Dallas, Texas – An aircraft services firm that manages jet management needs worldwide, Icarus Jet is pleased to announce services added for the Africa Region. With direct contacts within the Civil Aviation Authorities (CAA) and an exclusive assistance contract in some areas, Icarus Jet provides over flight and landing rights, as well as additional services, in 19 African countries.

Icarus Jet provides services relating to obtaining clearances in Africa for private, corporate, ambulance, and commercial aircraft operators worldwide. In addition to over flight and landing permits, the company assists clients with charter flights, hotel accommodations for passengers, catering, and more. Icarus Jet is based in Dallas, Texas in the U.S., and London, U.K., with capabilities to handle your executive traveling needs around the world. Due to its relationships with CAA groups in Africa, Icarus Jet guarantees its clients over flight and landing rights anywhere in the Africa region within 48 hours.

In addition to these services, Icarus Jet has an exclusive assistance contract that grants permits and the right to invoice worldwide clients on behalf of CAA organizations in some African countries, such as Mali and Benin.

For additional information about Icarus Jet and services for charter flights, visit the company's website at <http://icarusjet.com/> and stay up-to-date with the latest news on the company blog . Icarus Jet emphasizes safety, security, convenience, and cost-effectiveness for clients, and they strive to take care of every aviation need.

About Icarus Jet Icarus Jet is an aircraft services firm based in Dallas, Texas, in the U.S, and London, U.K., and it offers comprehensive private aircraft charter and jet management services to clients on a global scale. With a team of employees working together like family, Icarus Jet makes each aviation need of the client its top priority every step of the way. From chartering a plane, to hiring a crew, to securing permits for a given country, Icarus Jet takes the motto "We will take you everywhere" and turns it into reality.