( PRLEAP.COM ) June 10, 2014 - Irvine, CA – Prudential Overall Supply, popular supplier of high quality work uniforms and textile rental programs, is Clean Green Certified by the Textile Rental Service Association (TRSA), the leading international organization representing commercial textile services. The certification highlights Prudential's commitment to the conservation of natural resources and sustainability through best management practices. This recognition places the Southern Californian company above and beyond the industry's standards, and sends a clear message to consumers seeking the benefits of utilizing reusable textile solutions, including: reduced environmental impact, lower costs, and more.

Demand for environmentally conscientious companies is on the rise as people increasingly look to green solutions to solve the growing problems of rapidly depleting natural resources and rising energy costs. States like California and Texas are currently experiencing severe droughts that many experts predict will only become worse over time. Water conservation is more important than ever before, making companies dedicated to sustainability, like Prudential Overall Supply, crucial to America's economic future. Businesses can expect to benefit from using Clean Green Certified services, especially as consumers choose to frequent explicitly water and energy efficient establishments.

Prudential Overall Supply operates numerous facilities around the nation with fast, quality services designed to fulfill organizations' uniform and apparel needs. They are well sought after by companies throughout many industries, including: medical, food service, automotive, industrial, and more. As a leader in the textile industry, they only distribute for the world's top manufactures to ensure their customers receive the best-branded work wear products available on the market.

Prudential Overall Supply is proud of their Clean Green certification and their continued pledge to minimizing their environmental impact. They encourage people to look for their exclusive Clean Green window stickers and tabletop message tents displayed by companies around the nation.
