

TV Armor Gets New Patent For Protective TV Enclosure

Written by Australian Business

(PRLEAP.COM) June 21, 2014 - Freehold, NJ – Along with the introduction of the new custom TV enclosures from TV Armor is the new Patent 8717751, which classifies the enclosure for a variety of different uses. As specified by the permit, the claims made by the company are that this is a versatile product that will protect a variety of devices when used under a variety of conditions. The TV Armor includes air vents and fans, to keep electronic devices cool, and can be customized with sound upgrades. According to the details of the patent, the enclosure may include a television or computer monitor, and may be made with a variety of features, including a clear plastic cover, anti-glare, plastic or metal enclosure, and it includes a rounded corner.

TV Armor is known for their innovative TV enclosure designs, including LCD enclosures, outdoor TV covers and flexible features that make them ideal for both indoor and outdoor use. Custom enclosures can be used to protect electronic equipment that is used in public displays and keep it secure from theft or vandalism. Achieving the award of patent 8717751 for their custom HDTV screen enclosures ensures that customers will get a product that fits their TV and which offers the degree of protection they need to protect their valuable electronics under in a variety of settings.

Any high traffic area where you have a computer or TV that is exposed to the elements, or where there is public exposure, can be protected by an LCD screen protector that is custom designed for an exact fit. Bars, colleges, entertainment complexes, amusement parks, retail stores, and other areas where a TV is displayed without adequate protection are places that your valuable equipment is at risk. You can rely on the patented protection of a custom enclosure to keep out rain and would-be thieves or vandals. Get the protection you need for your electronics today!

Visit TV Armor at <http://www.tv-armor.com/> and see how their custom TV enclosure offers better protection to your TV and other electronics than other brands, and learn why they have the patent on their unique enclosure design. Call 1-800-890-0073 to speak with a customer service representative or send an email.

About TV ArmorThe idea for TV Armor came when one of the original founders of the company broke a new LCD TV. Today, the company is still owned and operated by one of the original partners, Andrea Marker, who works with her family to provide individuals and businesses with the best TV enclosures on the market today. The latest product and patent are evident of the quality products and customer service that they offer their customers.

TV Armor Gets New Patent For Protective TV Enclosure

Written by Australian Business