

( PRLEAP.COM ) June 30, 2014 - OStaining has preserved the outstanding work of JoomlaPraise and they're offering much of it to web developers for free.

Joomla! is a content management system (CMS). That doesn't mean anything to most people, so let's put it this way: Joomla! is tremendously popular computer software used to build websites. Yes, you can create sites that look great ... and are easy to design and compile.

As a CMS, Joomla! provides a way to store and manage the photographs, videos, text, diagrams and other whiz-bang stuff used on your site. That cuts down on wasting time as you add new content.

Joomla! software is open source, so anybody can create apps and add-ons and other spiffy improvements.

JoomlaPraise provided outstanding templates and extensions that saved web developers thousands of hours of time. All they had to do was search JoomlaPraise, find what they needed and they were a few clicks away from leaving work on time for a change – after a job well done. That's the good news.

The bad news is saving programmers thousands of hours of work creating new extensions and templates is time-consuming for somebody. Unfortunately, JoomlaPraise could not maintain that frantic schedule either.

Rather than see all that hard work go to waste, OStraining agreed to move all the Joomla 2 and 3 extensions and templates from JoomlaPraise to OStraining.com.

Even better, everything is now free to download. The superb efforts of the JoomlaPraise team are now freely available to the Joomla! community.

OStraining.com has made available 5 free extensions here: <http://www.ostraining.com/resources/extensions/>

You are also free to download and use any of these 17 free templates: <http://www.ostraining.com/resources/templates/>

You might be familiar with a few of these extensions:

OSGreybox Image Gallery: use the Greybox Lightbox gallery in Joomla content
OSPositions: constantly reveal your template's module positions
OSRegister: Joomla registration in a module
OSShow: lightweight slideshow module.
OSURL: easily find the underlying Joomla URLs on a page
OStraining.com can make your workload so manageable that you might even leave work on time.

Get your career in gear! Sign up for the practical, career-changing, online education available today from OStraining.

Click below for details on OStraining online training videos: <http://ostraining.com/courses/>