

Boise CPA Offers Specialized Services to Help Those in the Construction Industry

Written by Australian Business

Louis P. Brown is a Boise accountant who uses his expertise to help local businesses, including those in the construction niche.

(
PRLEAP.COM

) July 15, 2014 - Boise, ID – Louis Brown, of Louis P. Brown & Co. PLLC provides accounting and tax expertise uniquely tailored to help construction contractors in his community remain successful.

Louis P. Brown & Co., PLLC is a full-service accounting, tax, and business consulting firm in Boise, ID. Principal team members, Louis Brown, CPA and Curtis Brown, J.D. have over 40 years of accounting experience between them that they are able to leverage to help local businesses in their community remain financially stable and compliant with all relevant state and federal laws. Louis Brown has specific and unique experience working with individuals in the construction industry, and is excited to use this expertise to provide financial services for construction contractors in Boise.

Louis Brown explained, "Our goal is to help businesses get expert financial collaboration from a CPA. Because of my experience working with business owners in the construction field, I am able to offer professional services in this industry that meet contractors' needs for financial clarity, tax and other regulatory compliance, and future profitability."

For construction contractors in his Boise, Idaho community, Louis Brown's CPA firm offers innovative solutions. Because he knows that those in the construction field are typically not at a desk for 8 hours a day, he offers a cloud-based accounting system that construction contractors can access anywhere.

"Making our services mobile is a significant part of providing the right kind of accounting assistance to construction contractors. Contractors need to be able to get to important financial information, no matter what site they're on. We aim to make it easy for busy clients to get the information and assistance they need – we support them every step of the way," Louis added.

The team at Louis P. Brown & Co. PLLC can also host QuickBooks software for construction clients, so they can access their accounting software from a state-of-the art virtual server from anywhere in the country. Louis and Curtis use their accounting expertise to serve as an in-house CFO and partner in success for construction contractors. Construction contractors can take advantage of Louis P. Brown & Co. PLLC's list of accounting services geared for small businesses, including payroll, cash flow management, business planning, and financial statement reviews and compilations.

About Louis P. Brown & Co., PLLC Louis earned a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration degree from Thomas Edison State College with a major in Accounting. He is a Certified Public Accountant licensed in the State of Idaho and is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Idaho Society of Certified Public Accountants. His area of specialty is in the construction industry, but he also has significant experience in a wide range of industries and activities including oil and gas, agriculture, professional services, financial investments, manufacturing, retirement planning, and not-for-profit organizations. His business partner, Curtis Brown, has over 35 years of diverse legal, accounting and mediation experience. He received his B.B.A. in Accounting from Texas Tech University and his Juris Doctor degree from The University of Texas School of Law. He also completed international law studies at the University of Oxford. Curtis currently practices law in his central Texas office, serves as a principal of Louis P. Brown & Co. PLLC, and is President of a custom home construction company.

For more information on how Louis P. Brown & Co. PLLC can help you organize your financial information and plan for future business success, visit the website at: louispbrown.com