

Australians more likely to recommend ING Direct than other banks

Written by Australian Business

Brisbane strategic consulting firm Engaged Marketing has released findings from its independent 2014/15 Financial Institution Consumer Recommendation & Loyalty Study outlining customer experience outcomes for ten of the most popular Australian financial institutions using the Net Promoter Score (NPS). The bank that led the way was ING Direct