The African Safari Journal & Field Guide features detailed information including a color illustrated guide, checklist, and journal pages for safari-goers to record their experiences for future reference. Selected as a finalist in the Reference category for the 2013 Florida Authors and Publishers Association (FAPA) President's Awards, the newest guidebook is an in-depth, convenient safari manual. Included are color illustrations to the 122 mammals, 258 birds, 28 reptiles, 8 frogs, 33 fish, 27 trees and 11 ecosystems readers are most likely to see on safari. With 62 color maps and 30 blank journal pages, readers will be able to record their safari memories and gain a thorough understanding of the African continent.

As a consummate explorer and researcher, Mark Nolting's expertise is the result of over 30 years of adventuring and study. In addition to the African Safari Journal & Field Guide, Mark previously authored the comprehensive Africa's Top Wildlife Countries series and heads the award-winning Africa Adventure Company with his wife, Alison Nolting.
