

CENTENNIAL, Colo., Sept. 16, 2013 /PRNewswire-iReach/ -- NexusTek, a leading provider of ERP, CRM, and managed IT and consulting services, acquired the Microsoft Dynamics practice of IronWare Business Intelligence on September 3, 2013.

IronWare Business Intelligence is a well-known and trusted provider of top-tier business intelligence solutions to clients across the nation. With this acquisition, NexusTek strengthens its leadership position as the largest Microsoft Dynamics SL partner in the Rocky Mountain Region, capable of delivering powerful and effective business management software solutions to organizations of all sizes.

NexusTek has gained over 500 new clients across the country as a result of this transaction. These companies will have the opportunity to work with NexusTek for comprehensive IT services alongside expert consulting centered on Microsoft Dynamics ERP and CRM systems. Several key employees from the IronWare team have joined NexusTek, strengthening the company's Dynamics capabilities and easing the customer transition.

IronWare founder Greg Houston released the following statement about the acquisition: "NexusTek's acquisition of the IronWare Dynamics clients and IronWare key personnel allows them the ability to service clients more strategically than in the past. IronWare will be able to focus its resources solely on business intelligence, enabling us to provide complete and comprehensive BI solutions to the businesses who have placed their trust in us."
