SKIPPACK, Pa., Sept. 27, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- GeoInvesting ("We" or "The GeoTeam") has just released a bullish analysis on Polydex Pharmaceuticals Ltd. (OTC Pink: POLXF), a pharmaceutical company that the research firm qualified as a GeoBargain on July 22, 2013 at $0.81 per share. Please see, " Industry Landscape Opens Doors for Pharmaceutical Company Polydex ."

GeoBargains are stocks that meet a number of investment criteria that can translate into superior investment returns. GeoInvesting's approach to identifying potential GeoBargains typically includes:

- Proprietary screening tools,
- Extensive analysis of Edgar filings and press releases, and
- Management interviews.

GeoInvesting's primary focus is to find opportunities in real revenue-generating micro-cap companies with reasonable capital structures.

The GeoTeam's two most recent stocks to be coded as GeoBargains were Gain Capital Holdings and Global Telecom & Tech Inc. Gain Capital Holdings shares are up over 140% since being coded as a GeoBargain on June 6, 2013. We highlighted the company in our article " Double Your Gains with Gain Capital Holdings ".

Global Telecom & Tech Inc shares are up over 30% since being coded as a GeoBargain on July 31, 2013 . We highlighted the company in our article " Global Telecom: Near-Term Catalysts Should Close Relative Valuation Gap

We believe POLXF will capitalize on its own set of catalysts, enabling the company to enter a new phase in its growth cycle and resulting in a potential increase in share price from current levels of around $1.10, or 36% higher than our initial mention of POLXF to our premium members.
