

(PRLEAP.COM) "Price for Freedom," a new book by Marc Benhuri, has been released by Dorrance Publishing Co., Inc.

Though coming from humble beginnings, the Daniels family has lived in relative peace and prosperity. And while they are Jewish, they call themselves Persians and, for 2,500 years, declare Iran as their home. Though imperfect (then again, what is perfect?), they have enjoyed the benefits of the shah's rule, with his forward-looking policy for Iran. Then came Ayatollah Khomeini's rise to power and his subsequent takeover of this ancient land of Iran. Disillusioned students, hiding behind the fervor of their philosophical and religious convictions, as well as opportunistic rebels and people without morals or conscience, flocked to the ayatollah's side, performing under his banner acts of atrocities and violence that set the country backward. And out of all this, the Daniels family, including many others, is caught in the middle, targeted by malicious people under the guise of their so-called revolution.

"Price for Freedom" is a 276-page paperback with a retail price of $23.00. The ISBN is 978-1-4349-3000-2. It was published by Dorrance Publishing Co., Inc of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.
