

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 9, 2013 /PRNewswire-iReach/ -- Jennifer Shenbaum, founder and president of The Shenbaum Group, Inc. and JenniferBuysHouses.com, was highlighted in South Bay Magazine's "Women in Business" issue (September-October, 2013).

"It's an honor to be featured in South Bay Magazine," Jennifer said. The issue highlights women in business throughout the local area who have found success on their own terms. The magazine interview showcased why Jennifer got into the real estate industry, what she can bring to her clients, and what she wants clients to take away from their experience with The Shenbaum Group, Inc.

When asked what one word she most wanted associated with herself and her business, Jennifer replied, "Integrity. Being in the real estate investment business, especially when I'm talking directly to homeowners, entails a lot of integrity. I hold myself to a very high professional standard."

JenniferBuysHouses.com and The Shenbaum Group, Inc. operate as an alternative to the traditional home sales process. Rather than listing their homes with a realtor and waiting months, perhaps years, to find a qualified buyer, homeowners are able to sell their homes directly to Jennifer. It's fast, simple, effective and gives homeowners a no-fuss, no-hassle option. She even buys homes in need of repair or renovation.

Jennifer believes in providing personal service and developing a trusting relationship with each client. Selling a home is an emotional time, but Jennifer and her company are able to offer more than just a guiding hand. The Shenbaum Group, Inc. offers a one-stop solution to home sellers leery of going the traditional sales route, but one that's the best fit for each client's situation.

When asked what she brings to clients, Jennifer told South Bay Magazine, "I'm a problem
