

Australian Author Publishes Exciting New Novel

Written by Australian Business

(PRLEAP.COM) "Social Club Murders," a new book by Dudley Flint, has been released by RoseDog Books.

Three active sexagenarians, a retired engineer and two widows, become a ménage a trios. Spurred by indignation they exploit legal shortcomings to deny inheritance to a dying widow's detestable son. Their initiation into illegality ignites excitement. When characteristics of those shortcomings appear in the local social clubs, they investigate. A serial murder system using a common pain relief drug that is undetectable after death by sexual over-exertion is revealed. Captured at gunpoint by the murderer, the engineer is descending to death in a weird sex and drug ritual. The "girls" wield sports equipment as weapons to rescue him.

"Social Club Murders" is a 110-page paperback with a retail price of $14.00. The ISBN is 978-1-4349-3473-4. It was published by RoseDog Books, an imprint of Dorrance Publishing Co., Inc of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.
