

(PRLEAP.COM) "Poetic Messages to Mankind," a new book by Rev. James B. Roberts, has been released by Dorrance Publishing Co., Inc.

In the daily grind of living, people hardly take into account the most important aspect of living, content to just drift along day by day. We live mostly devoid of meaning, while piling complaints about the most unlikely things.

In "Poetic Messages to Mankind," Reverend James Roberts points to an alternative approach to living, one that is not far and out of reach by anyone. Taking stock of our lives and lifting that dusted Bible off its resting place might just be the simplest way to start great changes in our lives.

As Reverend Roberts says, this book could be a vehicle to help "inspire people to convert their minds and to cultivate their principles, to help mold their conducts and characters to the highest teaching that can be derived from the teachings of spirituality."
