Players of the online music game have been asking for more clips covering the last 10 years, so we here at ThinkYouKnowMusic.com listened and complied. We've added over 1,500 more clips pertaining to those years in all our covered categories.

The added clips brings the total number of songs covered to just shy of 10,000 tunes. Being the only music game on the Internet licensed by all three major music publishing companies, we feel it is our responsibility to cover as many songs and artists as we can. We wish to enhance the experience of reliving memories and hearing new songs by our players, while they try to win a FREE Android tablet every month.

To try your hand at guessing the names of artists or songs by listening to a 10 second clip, please visit our website at www.thinkyounowmusic.com . Our clips cover various categories such as; dance, hip hop, rock, pop, soul, adult contemporary, R&B alternative, and soundtracks.

Thinkyouknowmusic.com is a licensed online music game website dedicated to educating people on all things music related; trivia, news, blogs, stories, lyrics, clips, videos and headlines. In the near future, we will be adding things like country music, latin music, and a special "local bands" page. We also plan to pitch our treatment at the Real Screen West convention in Santa Monica in June 2014.
