The record date for the distribution is October 24, 2013 , and the payable date is October 31, 2013 . The ex-date is October 22, 2013 .

At this time the Fund believes that a portion of the October distribution may be comprised of amounts from sources other than net investment income. The final determination of tax characteristics of the Fund's distributions will occur after the end of the year, at which time it will be reported to the shareholders.

The Fund makes distributions in accordance with a managed distribution plan. With each distribution, the Fund issues a notice to shareholders and a press release containing information about the amount and sources of the distribution and other related information. The Fund's distributions in any period may be more or less than the net return earned by the Fund on its investments, and therefore should not be used as a measure of performance or confused with "yield" or "income." Distributions in excess of Fund returns will cause its net asset value to erode. The Fund's distribution rate may be affected by numerous factors, including changes in realized and projected market returns, Fund performance and other factors. There can be no assurance that change in market conditions or other factors will not result in a change in the Fund's distribution rate. Additional information about the Fund, including performance and portfolio characteristic information, is available at www.eatonvance.com .
