

NEW YORK, Dec. 30, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- Pomerantz Grossman Hufford Dahlstrom & Gross LLP is investigating claims on behalf of investors of Textura Corporation ("Textura" or the "Company") (NYSE: TXTR). Such investors are advised to contact Robert S. Willoughby at rswilloughby@pomlaw.com or 888-476-6529, ext. 237.

The investigation concerns whether Textura and certain of its officers and/or directors have violated Sections 10(b) and 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. On Thursday December 26, 2013, a report from Citron Research stated, among other things, that the Company's stock is worth less than $4 per share due escalating expenses by the company which demonstrate a lack of leverage and unsustainable business model. Moreover, Citron concluded that the company refusal to provide disclosure of data supporting retention rates and revenue generated from related party referrals, strongly suggest non-arm's length transactions.

On this news, shares of Textura fell $8.20 per share to $29.54, or more than 21.72%, on December 27, 2013

The Pomerantz Firm, with offices in New York, Chicago, San Diego and Florida, is acknowledged as one of the premier firms in the areas of corporate, securities, and antitrust class litigation. Founded by the late Abraham L. Pomerantz
