

BELLEVUE, Wash.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Tom Sulewski, CPA and shareholder with Clark Nuber, was recently installed as Chairman of the Board of the Bellevue Chamber of Commerce for the 2013-2014 term. Tom has been a member of the Chamber since 2005.

One of his most prominent contributions has been the creation of the award-winning "Young Execs" program, designed to give young professionals a chance to build long-term business relationships with a core group of peers.

"It is both a privilege and a duty to serve the Chamber and the local business community," said Sulewski. "The collaboration between the Chamber and the business community allows us to address issues and accomplish goals that are important for the economic vitality of the whole community, and I am proud to be a part of that."

Clark Nuber employs nearly 170 people with the expertise to provide commercial business owners, leaders in not-for-profit and healthcare organizations, and high net worth individuals with a wide variety of services, including financial statement audits, internal audit support, risk management, internal control, systems, indirect cost rate, merger and acquisition and billing/reimbursement consulting, federal, state, and international tax planning and compliance, CFO/Controller/accounting services, and specialty audits including employee benefit plans and government grants.
