

Clark Nuber P.S. Hires New Tax Manager

Written by Australian Business

BELLEVUE, Wash.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Moses Man recently joined Clark Nuber as a Manager in the firm's Tax Department. Moses previously spent seven years at Deloitte in their international tax practice, and most recently worked at Taiyo Pacific Partners, a global investment firm, where he was an assistant controller in charge of day-to-day tax and accounting functions. Moses has served as an adjunct professor at both Seattle University and the University of Washington and has developed mentoring and leadership skills that will be helpful as we continue to build our team.

"We are delighted to have Moses join us," Rob Wheeler, Shareholder in charge of the firm's tax practice said. "The addition of Moses to our team will provide additional depth and capacity as we continue to grow our commercial tax practice and international tax service area."

Clark Nuber employs more than 180 people with the expertise to provide business owners, leaders in not-for-profit organizations, as well as high-net-worth individuals, with a wide variety of services, including financial statement audits, federal, state, and international tax planning and compliance, business succession planning, private foundations, CFO/Controller/accounting services, and specialty audits including employee benefit plans and government grants.