

(PRLEAP.COM) Bakersfield, CA – Global CTI Group, a trusted managed service provider, is pleased to offer clients ProSys Managements. Global CTI Group is uniquely positioned to meet the communication needs of businesses in a timely manner and exceeding industry averages. ProSys Management is among the latest products offered by this managed service provider that enables clients to be more efficient and productive in their respective businesses. ProSys Management functions as an internal IT department that is a necessity in today's business environment.

ProSys Management catches critical developments that can malign a network and can decrease productivity by running inventory and software inventory and audits, fully automated patch management, fully automated endpoint security, fully automated backup and disaster recovery and more. In-house IT professionals will be able to work more effectively and efficiently to ensure speed, reliability and security of business communications. Companies that do not employ a dedicated IT person will be able to rely on ProSys Management from Global CTI Group managed service provider to fill that gap-consistently and effectively.

Other features of ProSys Management include fully automated user state management, fully automated power management, cross platform support, LAN discovery, event monitoring and alerts, secure FTP, chat and messaging and many other features that businesses rely on every day for digital communications. To keep business flowing, small and mid-size companies need an effective and affordable managed service provider to ensure that both internal and customer communication systems are working at all times and Global CTI Group is able to meet this important demand.

Global CTI Group also complements its managed service provider solutions with converged voice and data solutions and a wide range of quality applications in the voice, data, video, connectivity, desktop and managed service realms. The company has been recognized for clients' satisfaction and the ability to engineer, implement and support the best and most appropriate client communications solutions. Companies looking for a reliable managed service provider will find that Global CTI Group meets and exceeds the capabilities of other similar companies.
