

CyberlinkASP Has Been Recognized as a Leading Provider of Cloud Services

Written by Australian Business

(PRLEAP.COM) Nine Lives Media's third annual report of leading cloud services providers includes CyberlinkASP, a Dallas-based technology firm that specializes in providing application services for organizations that are looking to expand their use of the cloud. CyberlinkASP joins an elite collection of companies that have together generated revenues of more than $15.7 billion.

The revenue growth of the ever-expanding cloud services industry represents an uptick of 37% compared to 2012. The Talkin' Cloud 100 report bases its ranking on both actual and marginal revenue growth rates, and CyberlinkASP has continued to demonstrate its ability to thrive in the midst of a highly competitive industry.

"Nine Lives Media and Talkin' Cloud congratulate CyberlinkASP," said Amy Katz, president of Nine Lives Media. "The Talkin' Cloud 100 honor arrives amid a land grab in the cloud computing market. And the Talkin' Cloud 100 companies are leading that land grab."

CyberlinkASP, is making the most of new opportunities presented by advances in cloud computing technology. Revenue is up significantly from 2012, and much of the growth has come from cloud services and virtual desktop offerings. "Our hosted virtual desktop service is changing the way companies view IT," said Mason Cooper, CyberlinkASP's VP of Information Technology. "Every day more and more businesses are adopting our technology."
