

(PRLEAP.COM) Los Angeles, CA - Internet marketing services and consulting company, National Positions (<http://www.nationalpositions.com>), has been recognized by Inc Magazine as one of the nation's fastest growing companies for the 5th consecutive year.

Longstanding leaders in the Internet marketing industry, National Positions has grown exponentially since its founding in 2004. Only a handful of companies have sustained such a remarkable growth path, and the tremendous progress that National Positions has maintained is particularly noteworthy considering the ever-evolving climate of Internet Marketing and SEO today.

"We're thrilled to be a 5-time Inc Magazine honoree," announced National Positions President Bernard May, "This award is a testament to our company's constant drive to provide our clients the best services and most innovative solutions possible."

In honoring the company, Inc Magazine highlights National Positions' ongoing growth. Within the last three years alone, the company has expanded its global reach, helped more businesses thrive in the competitive online market, and has grown by an impressive 88%.

"In one year we've gone from 75 employees to over 130 in Los Angeles alone," said May, "We're excited to keep growing our team and revolutionizing the industry." Today, the online marketplace is more sophisticated and competitive than ever before. It's necessary that SEO evolve as the search landscape does, and National Positions' Inc 5000 award is a testament to their ability to constantly innovate, adapt, and advance their services in step with industry changes.
