) ActivePBX, Inc., a provider of cloud based phone systems to businesses across the U.S., has added the fast paced and growing company OmniPoint LLC to its client list. OmniPoint LLC, which was recently acquired by Aon Hewitt, is a recognized leader in the global deployment of Workday solutions providing services to more than 130 organizations in over 100 countries.

What we have in common OmniPoint and ActivePBX share the vision and experience of cloud-based systems that offer reliable, efficient, and cost effective products and services for their clients. ActivePBX's solution is built on a cloud-based architecture for running mission critical systems and applications, offering a simple, clean centralized solution for a company's communications needs while providing a high level of reliability and flexibility to companies of all sizes. OmniPoint LLC, who partners exclusively with Workday, deploys Workday solutions for HR, Payroll, Financial Management and Worker Spend to their clients all over the world. "Our relationship with ActivePBX has proven to be compatible and productive in terms of ease of transition to their sophisticated phone systems that are easily scaled to meet our rapidly changing needs. " says Keith Diego, Senior VP of OmniPoint, Inc.

"Providing services to a company like OmniPoint is what we do best. Fast growing companies don't have the time to spend anymore on installing and integrating phone systems and services for their new offices and remote employees. Unlike the traditional phone companies, we can get a company up and running in less than a day," says Alex Gonzalez, CEO and cofounder at ActivePBX.
