(PRLEAP.COM) Deerfield Beach, FL 1/24/2014 - Noted software solutions developer MoverworX Software has added a powerful new module to its already robust and highly-effective solution. The new module focuses on the logistics of finding and managing trucks and drivers. The module allows the company to locate and assign trucks to new moves and to simultaneously locate and assign the driver, foremen and any required workers as well. Additionally, this module works for multiple moves for an individual truck. In this way, the company can schedule daily, weekly and monthly moves for each vehicle and allows for loading and tracking of each project. This effective module greatly simplifies the tracking of employee payroll, commissions and the vehicles as well.

"If there is one thing that is the most difficult and the most important for any of our clients," quoted Uri Levy, owner of MoverworX Software, "it's the tracking of trucks and personnel over multiple jobs and over time. Our system's new module takes the hassle out of this all-important logistical issue."

MoverworX Software provides logistical software solutions for moving companies, international moving companies, freight handling businesses and storage companies as well. Because of the related nature of these otherwise independent classifications of business, MoverworX's solution is perfect for each. With the addition of the new module, the software's flexibility and strength has grown even further.

Moving, Storage and Freight Company Announces new Addition to its Software Solution

Written by Australian Business

The benefits of the new module and the MoverworX software in general represent a powerful set of much-needed logistical solutions for these companies. For example, the system allows for virtually instantaneous dispatching of employees and vehicles to complete any project. The level of control that is offered over every aspect of the business not only makes the whole company run much smoother, but can vastly increase productivity and therefore increase sales. MoverworX Software's overall goal is to provide not only a great logistical solution, but to give their clients the maximum return on their investment.

The company does offer several demonstration videos that can be viewed at: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=jGxdqnH86F8>
