for corporations and individuals in the United States and beyond, is now offering a new discount offer that is good for the rest of 2014. For the next three quarters, new and returning Ashford Global IT students will enjoy access to the company's cutting-edge education and enrichment programs at a company-wide discount rate of 5 percent.

The discount is available to any student who uses the XCELL2014 discount code during the online checkout process. It covers any class that occurs during 2014 and entitles its user to 5 percent off the class's final price. There is no limit to the number of students who may use this offer at one time, and no restrictions exist on the frequency with which individual students may use the code during the course of the year.

Students who take advantage of this bargain will enjoy access to ITIL® Certification Programs on critical topics like Operational Support & Analysis (OSA), Continual Service Improvement (CSI) and Planning Protection & Optimization (PPO). Additionally, corporations that need to educate new hires or veterans on best practices for everyday interfaces can take advantage of Ashford's comprehensive programs. The company's beginner, intermediate and advanced-level courses cover programs like Excel, Access, Outlook, PowerPoint and Word.

The coupon also covers all of Ashford's customized onsite training courses for data analysts, project managers and other key employees. Corporations that wish to leverage the company's courses on relational database design, project management professional certification and advanced business writing can use the XCELL2014 discount code to secure their 5 percent discount. These savings are available on top of Ashford's existing onsite training discount.
