

Keeping Cells in Good Shape

Written by Business News

Monday, 28 September 2015 07:00

An experiment aboard the International Space Station looked at how cells change shape in microgravity and the ways those changes affect their function.