

(PRLEAP.COM) "Michelle: Saint or Angel," a new book by Cathy Bongermino, has been released by RoseDog Books.

This story was born out of author's love for her daughter, Michelle. Many people encouraged Cathy to write about Michelle for many years now. Even though Michelle was only in Cathy's life for three very short years, she felt so blessed by her daughter's presence.

Michelle: Saint or Angel, is about the author's first child, Michelle and the events that occurred. She used to always say that she loved everybody and everybody loved her. The author's family found out just how true that statement is.

The author and her husband have been married for fifty-four years and have been through a lifetime of heartache and so many ups and downs. It has not been easy, to say the least. After the passing of their son, Robert, Cathy and her husband have been raising Robert's son, Kyle. Kyle is now twenty-two and is attending college.

Cathy and her husband believe very strongly in God and Jesus. She knows that someday she will finally know the answer to the events that have happened in life, with the help of God.

About the Author: Cathy Bongermino lives in Palm Coast, Florida, with her husband Joe and grandson Kyle. She enjoys spending time with her four-year-old grandson Kiefer. She also enjoys the outdoors and sitting by the pool and playing cards with friends. After having four children and losing a precious daughter at the age of three and a son at the age of twenty-eight, Cathy has found solace in writing about her beloved children.

This story is in memory of Michelle Bongermino.
